

Reporting to improve security

Everyone has the right and duty to immediately intervene in an unsafe situation! Dangerous situations and even minor personal injuries that have occurred must be reported without justified delay, so that the risky environment or operating methods can be corrected and the incident can be prevented from happening again. Effective incident reporting results in a safe, accident-free work environment.

The purpose of proactive safety work is to avoid accidents and other unwanted events, so all observations and events related to safety, quality and the environment must be reported. You can report directly to the Borealis synergy system (also orally or by filling out the event form, you can get them from the work permit issuing points and from the HSE barracks).

Remember, no observation is pointless!

All deviations must always be reported to your supervisor and Borealis:

- ✓ Accidents
- ✓ Near misses
- ✓ Vaaratilanteet
- ✓ Leaks and environmental damage
- ✓ Ignitions and fires
- ✓ Equipment damage, knocks
- ✓ Traffic accidents
- ✓ Thefts
